Lions Plan Special Book On Centennial

A permanent record of Antioch's Centennial Festival June 23-24-25 will be assured through publication of a hard-bound souvenir book, it was announced this week by Lions Club officials, a member of the central committee planning the event.

The book will contain stories of Antioch relating to the Civil War period, historical anecdotes, pictures of landmarks and old timers, along with stories concerning the period.

Publication of the book will be financed by local advertising, it was announced. However, the advertising will be of a prestige type rather than the "sale" type, it was announced, with advertising theme working in harmony with an illustration in keeping with Antioch as it was then and is now.

Mechanically, the book will be professional in every respect, it was announced. The hard cover will feature crossed flags of the Union and Confederate forces in red and blue superimposed over a sketch of two soldiers representing both forces.

The book will serve a dual purpose, it was disclosed. Some 3,000 Centennial issues will be distributed as souvenirs of the festival. Following this initial printing, editorial material concerning the Civil War period will be replaced by articles concerned with modern Antioch. This revised edition will in turn serve as a guide and fact book promoting Antioch, and will be used by the Chamber of Commerce to promote the Village. Some 2,000 copies of the second edition will be printed.

In announcing publication plans, Lions officials urged all residents possessing old photographs and documents to place them on loan for inclusion in the book. After printing they will be returned in original condition. The Antioch News office will serve as the collection point.

The publications committee consists of Jack Fields, Howard Shepard, Preston Reckers, George Haw-Dr. J. W. Kopriva will act as coordinator in charge of all planning for the central committee.

A Pioneering Educational Effort

What Are We Doing for Our Exceptional Youth?

By Harvey L. Potton
(Sixth of a Series)

This the sixth in a series of articles on what Lake County is doing for its exceptional children. The Special Education District differs from similar programs in other areas of the country in that it is a voluntary, cooperative venture between school districts whereby each contributes a pro-rata amount to underwrite the program and then shares the cost per student based on number of students participating. Cost per year per student approximates $270 as compared to an approximate $240 for normal students.

Approximately one in every 100 children is a slow learner, a child that is or should be classified as Educable Mentally Handicapped under provisions guiding the operation of the Special Education District of Lake County.

The student population of the 31 elementary and four high school districts in the program here is 20,760 students. Thus, there are approximately 200 children in the area who should be enrolled in EMH training.

A similar percentage exists in other classifications of handicapped youngsters now undergoing training under this program. They include the physically handicapped, hard of hearing, partially seeing, speech correction and trainable mentally handicapped.

It is to educate these exceptional youngsters that the special education (Continued on page 9)

EDITORIAL

A Duty and a Privilege

In this season of elections, probably none looms so important in the affairs of residents as the Village election next Tuesday, April 18.

For it is within the province of these elected officials to determine just how efficiently Village affairs will be conducted. They are the ones who function closest to home. They are the ones who determine the standards of sanitation, the condition of the streets, the efficiency of the police force, the protection of the home. They control many, many factors that influence the day to day living of all Village residents.

At no other level can the citizen, should he so desire, personally petition and present his desires and aspirations.

Antioch has made progress over the years. Through efforts of our officials industry has been drawn to the area with resultant benefit to local economy.

These efforts, we have been assured, will continue.

A program of public works is underway to improve water and sanitation facilities. The Village's antiquated zoning regulations are under study in an effort to chart a more orderly growth over the future. Street improvement is a continuing process.

All this is to the good. But even greater efforts must be expended by officials in the days and months ahead if Antioch is to continue a sound, orderly growth based more upon year-around factors rather than the summer peak of activity caused by an influx of vacationers.

In no small measure the future of the community hinges on Tuesday's outcome.

Those incumbents seeking re-election can point with pride to past achievements. They promise to expend even greater efforts toward future progress.

Those candidates seeking election to Village posts for the first time are no less sincere in their desire to work for the betterment of this community and its ascendancy to an even more prominent role in the economic growth of the region.

There are no marked issues in the forthcoming election. There have been no personal clashes which characterize many elections elsewhere. This, in itself, is a tribute to current officials and the caliber of new candidates.

They are willing to serve.

It is your duty to cast your ballot next Tuesday for the candidates of your choice. To do less is to default the greatest privilege democracy grants.

Courthouse Notebook—

BY LOU DURKIN

It's too bad the county board meetings aren't held in the evening because they should offer better entertainment and more excitement than television in the weeks ahead with John Balen on the board representing Waukegan Township.

Durkin

Balen, a Democrat, ousted Mickey Gergas, a long-time assistant supervisor from Waukegan, in last week's balloting to become the first Democrat elected as such to the Board of Supervisors.

An outspoken maverick who gained some measure of fame through his one-man stands against the North Chicago city council when he was an alderman, and more recently in his much-publicized fight against the officials of the United Steel Workers Union, Balen can be counted upon to speak his mind on the floor of the board meetings.

It should be interesting when he collides with such board veterans and powers as Emmett Moroney, of Deerfield Township; David Van Patten, of Newport; Guy Grinnell, of Libertyville; Joe Welch, of Cuba, and Augie Cepon, of Waukegan.

Karl Berning, of West Deerfield, was re-elected to the board with little trouble and is considered a shoe-in to be reelected chairman of the county board.

The only board member seeking re-election to lose his seat was Robert G. Brown, Elia supervisor, who lost out in a bitter battle with Clarence Voras, of Deer Park.

Brown was appointed to the board to succeed Phyllis Froelich following her resignation, an appointment which produced some legal wrangling because he was a member of the town board which made the appointment.

More recently Brown came under fire for alleged abuses as a justice of the peace and is under grand jury indictment for his conduct of the judicial office.

The Elia township produced some real fireworks including personal attacks that went far beyond the realm of wholesome politics.

The attention of voters now shifts to the municipal elections where again Democrats are entering the arena under party labels, for the first time in many cases.

With the exuberance of their recent showing to give them a boost, the Democrats can be expected to make strong showings in most of the city balloting thus taking another big step towards their ultimate goal, the courthouse.

Industrial Assoc. Lauds Safety Group

The Lake-McHenry County Industrial Safety Association has endorsed the 1961 program of the Lake County Safety Commission. Endorsement was disclosed by Robert F. Hund, association president, who said that in view of the program, it was felt necessary for the association to have a county safety program of its own.

The endorsement by the association followed an evaluation of the commission and its advisory council, Hund announced, and commended the safety commission for its work.

He asked that reports of members on unsafe conditions and practices in public and semi-public areas be made in the name of the Industrial Safety Association to the Lake County Safety Commission for proper action regulating the conditions.

Your State Senator Reports

By State Senator Robert McClary

Taxpayers have a golden opportunity to save money as the result of a Bill introduced by your State Senator. But the chances for general taxpayer support are probably quite remote.

The tax saving bill would permit almost complete utilization of school buildings and other school facilities as well as a fuller use of the time and talents of our inadequate supply of school teachers.

Instead of a nine-month school term, which made sense in the old bubble days when children spent their summer months working in a nation of farms, the new bill would permit schools to operate on a 12-month basis of staggered school terms.

With school enrollments being reduced by one-third throughout the school year on the staggered term program, we would get by with one-third fewer classrooms. Stated conversely, we could accommodate one-third more students in the same size facilities, as one out of four classes would be on vacation at all times. This practice would replace the present three-month vacation when, in most cases, the entire school facility is closed down and the buildings and grounds stand idle. During such a complete close-down, most teachers find other employment not usually related to their profession and generally at a scale considerably lower than they were receiving.

The annual tax saving to the people of Illinois from such a radical program would amount to millions of dollars, and would produce other benefits that cannot be measured in money. However, principal objections will come from the taxpayers themselves, especially from the parents of children whose school terms commence or proceed through the summer months. They will probably deplore the loss of the summer vacation, especially the family vacation together, which will be jeopardized if one or more children are attending classes. In addition, some teachers who enjoy the long three-month summer vacation for trips to Europe or graduate school study will complain about any full year school program. However, teachers would not necessarily be deprived of a three-month leave of absence, with quarterly systems in effect in a great many colleges and universities today, such teachers could pursue post-graduate work, or travel economically to foreign lands during other than the summer months when, indeed, prices would be much more reasonable.

The legislation proposed is not of a mandatory character, but of the kind described as "permissive." Only those school districts of the state which desire to adopt such a forward looking and tax economy program would have to adopt the twelve-month staggered term arrangement.

It is this writer's prediction that families and children themselves would soon adjust to the new program, with ensuing benefits to teachers and children alike, and funds in the pockets of the over-worked taxpayer.

Plant Racket Men on Prowl, Grower Warns

Green thumb enthusiasts and arm chair landscapers are urged to move with caution if they are contemplating professional help this spring, according to the president of the Chicago Metropolitan Landscapers Association.

In a warning to the general public, Walter L. Vogl, of Lake Zurich, estimated that thousands of dollars are swindled each year from house holders in northern Illinois by unscrupulous and unprofessional landscapers.

Vogl said his organization, which is dedicated to ethical business practices in landscaping, is deluged every spring with complaints from duped householders.

He urged home owners this year to beware of the door-to-door peddler of underdeveloped mail order evergreens; or the "humus huckster" whose bushel of peat soil has cost many an unsuspecting housewife her husband's salary for the week.

"Deal only with established, reliable nurseries and landscapers," Vogl asked.

Size is not the criterion. A small-scale landscaper may do quality work. Check his references and look at work he has completed. That is the best criterion and will set your mind at ease.

Noting the difficulty in tying the smooth talker to his glib promises, Vogl recommended that home owners ask for written contracts with full details.

Seeding or sodding, plant food, size of shrubbery, maintenance, etc.—all should be thoroughly worked out in a written contract, he said, no matter how small the job, or how honest the man seems to be.

"Consider landscaping a long-term investment to be pro-rated over a period of years," he said. "Don't buy temporary solutions that will cost you extra in the long run. Reputable landscapers will not recommend cutting corners."

Besides the Chicago Metropolitan Landscapers' Association, other organizations attempting to promote high standards in landscaping in the Chicago area are: Better Gardening Association, Illinois State Nurseryman's Association, Ornamental Growers of Northern Illinois, and the American Association of nurserymen and Chicago Horticultural Society.

He said offenders should be reported to Chicago Metropolitan Landscapers' Association, c/o George M. May, 5600 Touhy, Skokie.

SIDELIGHTS from SPRINGFIELD

By Rep. PAUL SIMON

Many Illinois residents will have a different Congressman after the 1962 elections—not because of the defeat of men in office, but because the state must be redistricted.

Illinois will have one less member in the 1963 Congress than our state has today, because the Illinois population has not grown as rapidly as other states.

Most people have no idea of the tremendous population shift which takes place within our country, and within our state. Within Illinois, for example, 51 of our 102 counties lost population between 1950 and 1960.

What is even more interesting, a study by Prof. John Kinneman of Illinois State Normal University shows that 26 Illinois counties have a smaller population today than they did in 1870—five years after the close of the Civil War.

Pope County has only 36 per cent of the population it had in 1870; Schuyler County has 50 per cent; Brown and Scott Counties have 61 per cent; and 22 other Illinois counties can be added to this list.

What makes this important is that there is a real struggle going on as to which way the state will change congressional districts, and the shifting population means some major changes must be made.

If this session of the legislature should not agree on districts, all 24 Illinois Congressmen would have to run at large in the state. Neither party wants that, and it is not likely to happen.

Because of population changes, the Chicago suburban area probably will receive one more congressman. The City of Chicago will lose one, and the rest of the downstate area will lose one.

Rumor has it that within Chicago this problem has been solved by one Congressman agreeing to become a Federal judge if his district is eliminated.

Downstate there is no such agreement and there are some real problems.

A committee of state legislators from the Senate and House will work on a solution and present it to the legislature in a few weeks. Then there will be amendments proposed and some bitter fighting before the redistricting is passed.

A hassle like this—involving people who are close friends of legislators—tends to become more heated than debates over issues.

There will be no attempt to keep all districts within a 380,000 to 500,000 population range. If it will work out that way is difficult to know.

Whether all Illinois residents will have a nearly equal voice in Congress will rest on this redistricting decision of the legislature.

It will be one of the more important and fascinating fights of this session.

Peppy Frosh 9 Nip Lake Forest 7-5 in Opener

Antioch High's frosh-soph baseball squad nipped Lake Forest 7-5 here Friday to atone for an 8-5 defeat earlier last week at the hands of Zion-Benton.

Friday's game went surprisingly well for early-season play with Jim Oilschlager allowing the visitors but eight hits.

Despite faulty control, with seven walks given up to the visitors, the Sequoits were ahead throughout the game and led 5-1 going into the fifth when Lake Forest erupted for four runs to tie the score. The Sequoits bounced back in the bottom half of the inning with two more to ice the game.

Antioch garnered its runs on six hits and four errors and some nifty running. Jim Wetterberg laid down two squeeze bunts that brought a smile from Coach Bill Seemann, who foresees better times ahead for his charges if they continue the hustle exhibited Friday.

Coach Seemann has cut his squad to 19 players and hopes to keep the Sequoits on the winning path. Following are squad members by class: sophomores: Ron Van Rooyen, of; Dean Horton, ss; Tom Ferland, 2b; Les Geist, 3b; Jim Wetterberg, of; Rich Good, p-of.

Freshmen—Ken Larson, 2b; Dave Schweigert, of; Jim Oilschlager, p; Rich Gelden, of; D. Hammelburg, of; Dean Denman, c-3b; Jim Wojczynski, of; Bill Woodmaster, of; John Horton, p; Dick David, if; Ed Matjeka, p; Jerry Berke, c; Jim Barnstable, c; Ernie Westlund, of.

Harry Kursh writes in Today's Health: "Peddling useless drugs, fake 'remedies', and bizarre therapeutic gadgets via the U. S. mails is a lucrative source of income for some of the meanest sharpies in the world. These human vultures feed on the ignorance and hopes of men and women who yearn for the 'miracles' that legitimate medicine thus far has been unable to provide. Last year, according to an actual accounting of orders filled by medical mail-order frauds barred from the mails, the merchants of misery bilked more than $50 million from thousands of Americans in all walks of life. But if it weren't for the U. S. Postal Inspection Service, mail-order quackery would perhaps become the greatest swindle of all time."

Recent research at the University of Illinois shows that debeaking pullets does not hamper their year-round egg production. Many farmers hesitate to debeak for fear egg production will drop.

Young Keglers Approach Season Windup with Outstanding Scores

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

Evidently inspired by Barbara Casella's feat in placing first in the Bantam Leagues in the United States, the Bantam and Junior League bowlers at the Antioch Bowl are finishing the season in a blaze of glory. Mrs. Janet Westhoff, secretary of both leagues, reports that Rodney Miller, a 111 average bowler, rolled games of 176-133 in the Bantam League. A boy who rolls 175 or over in this league receives an arm emblem. For girls, an emblem is given for a 150 game or better. Carol Silianoff, with a 72 average, turned in a 155 game last Saturday.

Junior League Ricky Ripley hit the pins for 216 for second high game of the year in this league. Eddie Thayer's 222 still holds first place. The same day, Bob Lenczewski turned in games of 179-179-205, for a 563 series.

May 6 will end the bowling season for both the Bantam and Junior Leagues. Junior League banquet will be on May 13 and Bantam League banquet on May 20.

Map Plans For Village Development

Members of the Antioch Planning Commission and the village board are studying a plan for future development of the village's business area and the residential area within a mile and a half of the village limits.

The blueprint for the future has been outlined to the planners and village trustees by Kincaid Associates, which is supplying the groups with maps for further study.

The business area roughed-out by the planners includes Main Street, Broadway, and both sides of Lake Street from Main to Rte. 173. The planners brought up the problem of alleyways south of Lake Street.

In other village business, the village board has amended the parking ordinance to permit parking on the east side of Victoria Street from Quality Street to Harden Street, and passed an ordinance dedicating a 60-foot deadend street off Orchard Street west of the village parking lot.

The board came to an agreement with Arnold May, contractor in charge of construction of the Quaker Stretcher Co. plant, over proper construction of sewers and state regulations regarding sewer pipe.

The American Legion Post has been granted permission to hold its annual carnival June 29 to July 4, and the Salvation Army has received permission to hold its Doughnut Tag Day June 9.

IN THIS SEASON of spring when buds pop and sunny smiles erase winter glumness, the small fry come again into their own in anticipation of rollicking days ahead. And we don't know of a nicer subject to present . . . than kids. And here they are, pin curls, toothless smiles and all. Rep. Murphy Named To Toll Committee

State Representative W. J. Murphy, Antioch, has been named for a two-year term to fill a vacancy in the legislative section of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission advisory committee.

The committee, set up by legislation which created the commission in 1953, functions in an advisory capacity on all policy and administrative matters pertaining to operation of the 187-mile tollway system. It includes five senators, five representatives and 15 members appointed by the governor. All serve on the committee without compensation.

Rep. Murphy, reelected to his fourth term in the house last year, is a member of that body's committee on Appropriation, Elections and

Seedlings Available Under Forestry Plan

The Wisconsin Conservation Department nurseries have plenty of seedling trees available for planting this spring, according to Leland V. Smith, Agricultural agent. The supply of four-year old transplants is depleted for this year, he revealed.

To make it easier to buy the seedlings, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office will issue a purchase order for the trees, according to Robert Accole, A.S.C. office manager. This means that the cost-sharing payment that the landowner usually gets would be sent directly to the nursery instead of re-imbursement the farmer for the trees after he has paid for them.

Purchase orders are issued on a minimum of 5,000 trees and a maximum of 25,000 trees. The purchase order is made out when the farmer orders his trees at the agricultural office in the courthouse.

To be eligible for these state trees and cost-sharing—no less than 800 trees can be planted for forestry purposes and a maximum of 25,000 trees, Accole said. No more than 1400 trees are planted per acre under the cost-sharing program.

Smith said the state nurseries still have the following number of seedlings available: 20 million Norway Pine; 2 1/4 million white pine; 2 1/4 million white spruce, 360 thousand white ash along with some white cedar and Norway spruce.

Lindenhurst Engineer Advises Sanitary Dist.

LINDENHURST —Recommendations for forming a sanitary district here were outlined before members of the board recently by Village Engineer Thacker.

Thacker described two phases by which modern sanitation could be developed: Project 1 would cover 90 per cent of the populated area, and could be undertaken this year, he said.

Project 2—includes a separate water shed—would embrace the rest of the district. This project is feasible by 1964, Thacker reported.

Thacker recommended Project 2, the combined effort. However, he urged the village to take steps now to form a sanitary district.

Thacker is also engineer for Round Lake Sanitary district and Gages Lake Sanitary District.

Local Oilmen Told Of New Developments

New oil home heating techniques and equipment designed to save some 25 per cent in home heating costs, was discussed by Jack Heyen and Tom Carton, Petroleum Terminals, Chicago, before members of the Antioch Oilmen's Club, last Thursday at Adolph's Inn.

As guest speakers, the two Chicagoans told of progress being made by the oil industry not only to improve the quality of heating oils, but also new types of oil burners being developed in research laboratories of various oil companies.

Both Heyen and Carton discussed component parts of the "jet heat" furnace and disclosed how a new principle of oil combustion and heat distribution will save more than 25 percent in heating costs.

The meeting was under William Lahti, president of the local group, assisted by Tom Chase, vice president, and Ronald Gaa, secretary-treasurer.

If Your Tax Return Is Faulty You'll Have Lots of Company

Harold R. All, Chicago District Director, Internal Revenue Service, announced today that 125,000 imperfect returns are likely to be received during the filing period which ends April 17. This figure is based on the experience of the Chicago Office in prior years.

All explained that a return may be imperfect for a variety of reasons, such as failure to attach form W-2, forgetting to sign the return, not giving the required information and illegible name and address.

He estimated that more than 2000 returns will be delayed in processing because the taxpayers' names and addresses cannot be read. Many of these people are entitled to refunds, he added.

Although the District makes every effort to decipher the poorly written names of taxpayers, and process their returns for refunds, some are so badly scrawled that the identity of the person cannot be established, All said.

Delays and misunderstandings can be avoided if taxpayers print or type their names and addresses, All said.

President Arthur H. Motley of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, says: "Today tens of millions of dollars are grabbed in lump sums out of the U. S. treasury—out of everybody's pocket—to build a waterways project benefiting only a small area; to build sewers or sidewalks or clear up a blighted downtown area in some community which has found a new way to shirk local responsibility."

Nick's Shell Service took 2 from Bob's Mobil Service.

Petersen's TV took 2 from Pittman Motors.

Chase's "66" Service beat Four Aces all three games.

Eckhoff Gas Co. took 2 from Wally's Channel Inn.

3—Sail Inn 59 37
4—John's River Inn 56 40

Bases-Loaded Blow in 7th Beats Antioch

A towering smash by Lake Forest's Bob Page with the bases full and two out in the last of the ninth put across the winning run to give Lake Forest an 8-7 victory over Antioch in the Northwest Suburban Conference opener last Friday.

Page's blow, his third of the evening, was good for extra bases, had they been needed, and capped a two-run spurt which saw the Scouts turn a ninth-inning 7-6 deficit into victory.

John Lindburgh led off for Lake Forest in the seventh with a double and advanced to third when Bill Hinman was safe on an error. Hinman scored on a single by Rand Kwiat, tying the score, and a bunt by Tom Lund loaded the bases.

Ozga retired the next two batters before Page's clout brought in the winning score.

The Scouts built up a 4-1 lead at the end of the second inning which held until Coach Larry Leon's Sequoits put on a six-run uprising in the top of the fourth to take a 7-4 lead. Lake Forest came back in their half of the fourth with two, with the score then 7-6 until the Scouts managed their winning tally in the last half of the seventh.

The Sequoits had their big inning by fashioning three of their four hits of the game and several walks. Lang led off the fourth for Antioch with a single, followed by Horn, who walked. Pleviak tripled to send both home, and scored a moment later on a single by Enis. Thompson was hit by a pitched ball. Maxwell bunted and all advanced on the pitcher's overthrow to third, with Enis scoring. Thompson scored on Ozga's grounder and Maxwell scored as Dewar grounded out.

Lake Forest cut the Antioch edge to 7-6 in their half of the fourth on a triple by Page, a double by Wiegler and a single by Lindburgh.

Lake Forest used three pitchers, with Eiserman credited with the win. The trio held the Sequoits to four hits.

Ozga went all the way for Antioch, scattering 12 hits and four walks. He toiled well, striking out 10 along the way.

Pleviak, Enis and Thompson were Sequoit standouts, particularly on defense, with Pleviak getting two for two at the plate to lead the offense.

Friday's loss marked the second in two games for the Sequoits, but is causing no concern for Coach Leon, who has been impressed with the defensive ability and the spirit of his charges. The squad is shaping up fast and with the addition of some offensive punch and several shifts in the infield and outfield, Coach Leon expects to make it a race in the conference.

Lake Forest's victory there was their first conference play, as it marked their first game in official Northwest competition. Despite their late entry, the Scouts boast a well-balanced, experienced squad as most of the players have been active in American League and Little League ball.

Coaches Pin Track Hopes on Returning Vets

Returning lettermen form the nucleus around which Northwest Suburban Conference coaches are basing hopes for a winning season.

Coach Charles Ridey, in his 13th year as track mentor at Grayslake, is placing his chips on eight returning lettermen, balanced out with five returning varsity squadmen and five top prospects from last year's frosh-soph squad. Backstopping what rival coaches feel to be the toughest squad in the conference are lettermen: Dave Darbro, broad jump; Tom DeMeyer and Herb Ehnert, weights; Bob Moran, dashes, Howard Sorenson, shot; Ben Molis, hurdles; Bill Panerelli, pole vault and hurdles; and Karl Avery, 440.

Although Warren High appears short on depth, Coach Bill Souza can call upon 10 returning lettermen from his 17-man squad to bring in the points. They are: Henry Cassidy, pole vault; Ron Dietz, dashes and 440; Bill Lacy, pole vault; Bill Williams, discus and high jump; Ron Engelhart, dashes and 80; Don Hanson, mile; John Koepke, hurdles and broad jump; Gerard Ostrand, mile; Dale Schellenger, hurdles; Neal Smith, pole vault.

Grant anticipates one of its better seasons, with Coach Bruce Samore placing his hopes on seven returning lettermen and seven returning varsity squadmen. Leading the way are: Bob Bishop, hurdles, broad jump and mile relay; David Hodge, 440, high jump and mile relay; Bob Soderdahl, mile relay; Bill Steichmann, 100, 440, and mile relay; Bill Steward, 880 and mile; Wayne Steward, 880, mile and mile relay.

At Wauconda High, Coach Tom Gallivan is counting on six returning lettermen to carry the burden. They are: Dwight Adams, pole vault, low hurdles, half-mile relay; Gary LeLito, high jump and high hurdles; Mike Kenkins, low hurdles, broad jump, 440 and mile relay; Don Metzger, mile relay; Ron Ehrlich, 100 and half-mile relay; Dick Oppendahl, 100 and half-mile relay.

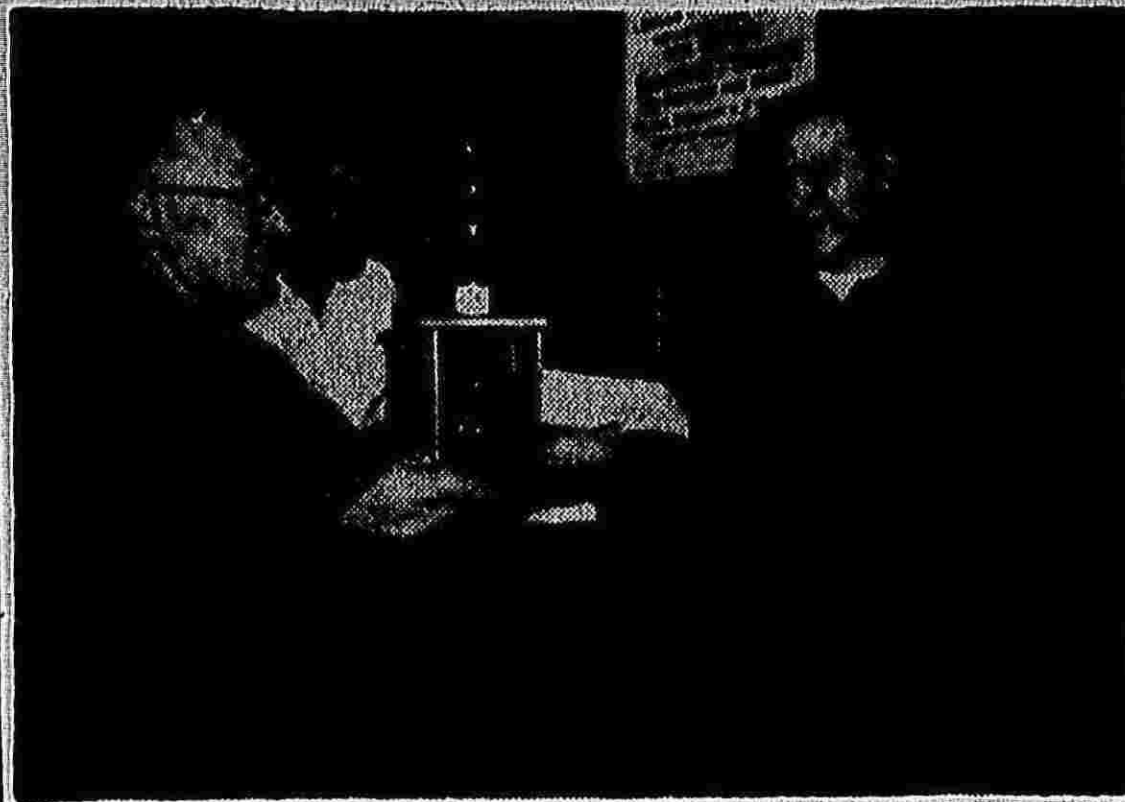

Sequoits Bow To Ela 5-2 For 2nd Loss

The Sequoits suffered their second straight conference loss Tuesday going down 5-2 to visiting Ela-Vernon.

Exhibiting mid-season form the locals were guilty of miscues that allowed Ela to score two in the third and three in the fifth, all unearned.

Behind the smooth pitching of Daryl Denman, who allowed four hits and walked six, the Sequoits jumped off to a 2-0 lead in their half of the first on a lead-off double by Pleviak, followed by a bunt by Enis, a stolen base and a wild pitch. Pleviak scored on the wild pitch after being advanced by Enis, who scored moments later on a fielder's choice.

Two errors enabled Ela to open the third with two runs to bring the count 2-all, where it remained

Salem Central Golf Squad Shapes Up as a Tough One

SALEM, Wis.—With only two lettermen lost through graduation, Coach Dorm Grams has every reason for confidence in his 1961 Salem Central golf squad.

The Falcons, possessor of 11 wins against three losses last year, capped second in Southeastern Conference and fifth in WIAA sectionals. They figure to be even tougher this year.

Ken Parker and Gary Six, lettermen, were lost through graduation. Other candidates for the squad are: Bob Anderson, senior; juniors—Stan Dobrowskis, Dennis Kavanagh, Bob Nelson, Bruce Dix, Don Durkin, Larry Blaney and Dan Yates; sophomores—Carter Schuid, Ron Sumner, Dennis Dunek, Dick Czakowski, Gary French, Dick Niekamp and Don Schaeffer; freshmen—Pete Henry, Dick Chapman, John Norfleet, Mark Olsen, Jim Gresham and Rich Krawczyk.

Hitting for Antioch were Enis, two singles, Pleviak, a double, and singles by Ozga and Denman. Antioch left 11 men on base while Ela left four.

Bowlers Ante $4,400 To Swell Seal Fund

"They bowl that others might stroll" could well be the motto of 8,000 members of the Lake County Bowling Association and the Waukegan Women's Bowling Association.

For the 16th consecutive year bowlers of Lake County have contributed to the Lake County Easter Seal Society bringing to nearly $50,000 the total contributed to the organization which provides special therapy for crippled children and disabled adults.

This year's check turned over to Richard W. Flagg, president of the Easter Seal Society, by Russell Schoenke, bowling association president, and Abe Johnson, chairman of the Easter Seal Committee for the leggers, was for $4,422.12, the largest single contribution turned over by the bowlers.

In accepting the check Flagg said: "The members of the Easter Seal Society are deeply grateful to the bowlers of Lake County for their generosity over the years, but even more grateful are the crippled children and disabled adults of Lake County who are the direct beneficiaries of the generosity of the Lake County Bowling Association and the Waukegan Women's Bowling Association."

"In accordance with our agreement with the bowling groups this money will remain in Lake County earmarked for additional equipment and facilities at the Lake County Center for Rehabilitation and the special education classes at Jackson School which are operated by the Easter Seal Society," Flagg said.

Falcon Nine Opens Season At St. Joseph

SALEM, Wis.—Bolstered by seven lettermen, the Salem Central Falcon varsity baseball team took on St. Joseph's at Kenosha Wednesday evening (April 12).

While encouraged by the manner in which the squad is shaping up, Coach Bill Becker feels his charges lack the offensive punch of the 1960 Falcon nine. However, pitching and fielding should be improved. Brunt of Falcon hopes will rest with junior members of the squad, a virtual guarantee that the 1962 team will be at peak.

Returning lettermen are: Jim Westman and John Lentz, pitchers; Tom Straulin, pitcher-outfielder; Ron Schumacher and Len Muehlisen, outfielders; John Zelhen, infield; and Glenn Schultz, catcher.

Meanwhile, the Falcons will be working hard to top their 9-4 record last year. Here's the 1961 schedule:

'Babe Ruth' Tryouts

Sunday at H. S. Baseball tryouts for the Babe Ruth League will be held Sunday, April 9, at 2 p.m. on the high school athletic field.

Boat Club Cards Racing Dates

The Chain O' Lakes Boat Club has been granted permission to stage APBA eastern divisions of the SK power boat racing class July 30 and is negotiating to schedule eastern divisions of the E racing runabout class on the same date, it was announced.

Racing dates established by the club this year are: May 20-21, June 25, July 30, Aug. 27, Sept. 9-10 and Oct. 15. Announcement was also made of the annual Las Vegas Night April 15 at the Wing and Pin Club.

Also requested, with decision pending, are the SK nationals of the American Power Boat Association to be held in conjunction with the Governor's Cup Race.

San Diego, Calif., has requested the nationals this year.

Pitching Key As League Play Opens

Diamond fans received a preview of what to expect in Northwest Suburban baseball last week as teams paired off to open the 1961 diamond race.

Pitching in mid-season form southpaw Dick Howard held Wauconda to two hits and fanned 13 in leading Grant to an 8-2 conference victory. His control was excellent and he walked but two, those coming in the seventh, contributing to one of Wauconda's two scores.

Grant pumped off to a one-run lead in the first and added another in the third. Wauconda came back with one run in the top of the fourth, and Grant immediately notched two more in their half, and added four more in the fifth to lead 8-1.

John Kallas, working five innings for Wauconda, was charged with the defeat in allowing six hits, four earned runs and giving up five walks.

Round Lake scored in their half of the fifth to take a 7-6 win over Ela-Vernon in a game called because of darkness.

The underdog Panthers, down 3-0 after Ela's spurge in the top half of the first, roared back with a 6-run second. Ela added one in the fourth and two in the top of the fifth to knot the count.

Ray Gibson opened the fifth for Round Lake with a single, advanced to second on a bad throw, stole third and scored the winning run on a bad throw.

Grayslake 5, Warren 0 Pitching was the key to the Rams' victory over Warren Friday as southpaw Dennis Williams blanked the Blue Devils on three hits and 13 strikeouts.

It was a pitchers' contest until the fifth, with Warren's Ken Krueger more than holding his own until the Rams got to him with the aid of a walk and three errors.

Urgo Boat Operators To Observe State Rules

All powered boats must be registered and plainly numbered before being launched in Illinois waters, and the operator must have his registration certificate on his person, according to William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

All boats must be properly equipped and operated safely, according to Lodge, who warns that boaters must conform with provisions of the boating act. "Warm weather means crowded waters," he said, "and boats must be operated with due regard for the safety of fellow boaters."

Department inspectors recently completed a three-day briefing on laws under instruction of the U. S. Coast Guard.

Our Exceptional Children

tion district was formed last year. Latest class added to the program is for the Educable Mentally Handicapped, opened last month in Woodland Junior High School. And where one is now in operation, a minimum of five more are immediately necessary, according to L. D. Vuilleumot, director of the district. "We are prevented in expanding this most necessary program through lack of sufficient qualified instructors," he said. "Despite the sweeping advancement in the field of special education of exceptional children, greatest obstacle is a shortage of instructors."

The Educable Mentally Handicapped child should be considered in two dimensions. His age is relatively unimportant. He is weighed according to his speed of learning and his capacity for academic achievement. The EMH child has a speed of learning from one-half to three-quarters of his normal peer, and his academic achievement is good if it is half that of a normal child.

The dozen members of the EMH class at Woodland Junior High are normal physically. However, in normal classrooms, they fall behind. As the class progresses the EMH child falls even further behind. The child may be 12 years old or over but his mental level is probably that of a 6-7 year old.

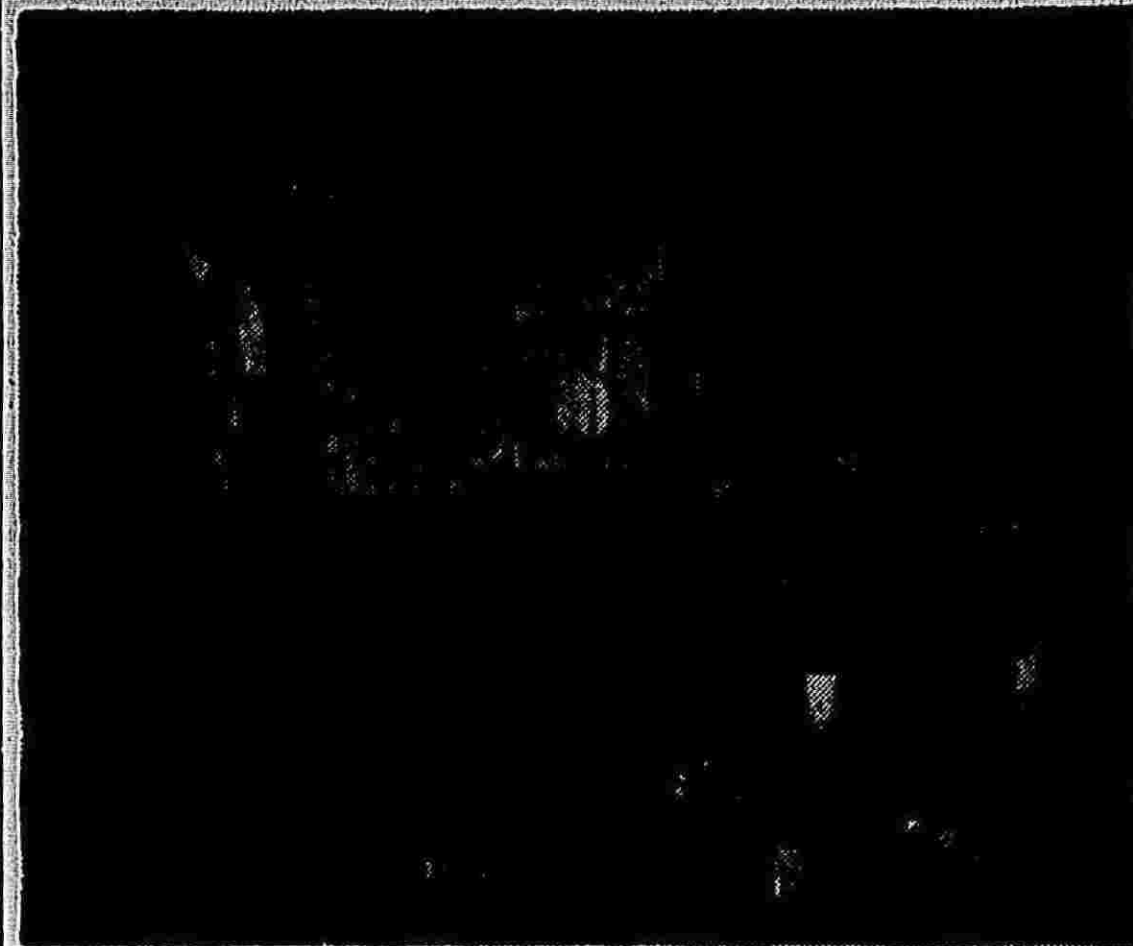

Before inauguration of this special EMH class, mentally handicapped youngsters attended regular classes. They failed. They were held back. And with this failing came a stigma, a frustration. If allowed to continue, the frustration at being unable to keep up will evolve into an emotional disturbance, adding another handicap to the already burdened child.

In the EMH class at Woodland, instructor David Hale spreads his efforts over two facets of instruction — (1) academic achievement and (2) teaching the EMH child to see himself as he is and to act accordingly.

Basic yearning of the advanced EMH child is to be accepted by his peers for what he is, says Hale.

Putting it bluntly, Hale says, "In our 'production' of children, as in the production of anything, we 'grind' out a large number that are average. At each end are the extremes—the advanced and the slow. Both are exceptional and must be accepted and treated as such."

"Perhaps," says Hale, "the layman can better understand in relation to treatment sometimes accorded to minorities. We may not have legal segregation. But we can segregate anyone in our midst merely by our actions just as effectively as by placing a barrier around them."

Just as it is with race or color, the EMH child literally pleads, "I'm slow. Accept me as being slow. Accept me and I will perform up to my capabilities as I cannot help being what I am."

Under Hale's guidance, EMH students are being trained just as normal students are at the first and second-grade levels. Their pace is slower, guided always by two objectives: (1) to make them useful citizens and (2) to prepare them toward a happier life.

By state law, EMH classes must number between 10 and 15 students. The school day runs from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., during which students are instructed by Hale according to their needs. At present there is a spread from first to fourth grade in this one class. Where possible these youngsters are integrated into other junior high classes that will fit their needs.

Basically, they are an alert group, seemingly normal except when compared to youngsters their own age. Some may progress into high school, but the majority will achieve a learning equivalent to that of second to fifth graders.

Guiding the youngsters is David Hale, brought in from Michigan by director Vuilleumot

A specialist in his field, Hale, 40, is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, where, as a student he worked with retarded and emotionally disturbed youngsters.

He was originally a tool and die maker until World War II, when he served with the Air Force in Europe. He continued this work until duty in the Korean conflict, where he again served with the Air Force, this time in Japan.

On separation from the service, he entered Eastern Michigan where he received his formal education in the field of socially and emotionally disturbed children under the special education curriculum.

Next week's article will be concerned with special training for the partially seeing and speech correction training under Lake County's special education district.

County Red Cross Extends Fund Drive

The Lake County chapter of the American Red Cross announced this week that its 1961 fund campaign has been extended.

William G. Lampe, general fund chairman, reported that not enough money has been raised to continue the services that the chapter now renders.

Red Cross officials, however, remain optimistic about the success of the 1961 fund drive. In actual dollars the chapter has raised more money so far than it did at the same point in the 1960 drive.

Complete reports from all fund workers are not available at the present and there are many residential areas that have not been contacted as yet because of a lack of workers.

In a letter to Red Cross fund chairmen and workers throughout the county, Lampe said: "We who are engaged in the 1961 Red Cross fund drive have a year . . . not just March . . . for which we are responsible. We also have a whole future depending on the example that we are setting."

The goal set for Lake County is $132,710 in one month.

CHANNEL LAKE—Harry Warner of Sun-Side subdivision returned last week from California. Warner, 35, flew to California some weeks ago for eye surgery. Surgery was decided against, and he is back home under treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saubert, long-time summer residents of Woodcrest Subdivision, moved permanently to Channel Lake last Saturday. They will be year-round residents.

A birthday party for Mrs. Paul Chase, whose birthday was April 4, was held at the William Chase home on April 5. Those present were the Tom Runyards, Mrs. Dorothy Olson, Mrs. Peter Peck and the Tom Chases.

The dance sponsored by the Channel Lake Community Club and held at the American Legion Hall on Saturday, April 8, was a smashing success from every point of view. A large crowd attended. Music was by the Rhythm Kings.

In 1900, Health Information Foundation reports, the average 20-year old male could expect to spend only 2.7 years in retirement. By 1958, however, retirement-life expectancy for a 20-year-old male had more than doubled to 6.3 years.

smokeless broiling

Yours with Modern Gas Ranges

There's nothing like gas flame for cool, clean, closed-door broiling. No need to heat up and smoke up your kitchen... gas gives you truly smokeless broiling. The friendly gas flame completely burns up the greasy smoke that otherwise would escape into the kitchen. (Make your own test. Hold a lighted match above a burning cigarette... watch the flame "eat up" the smoke.)

"Flame-kissed" broiling. Flavor is flame-sealed for succulent, tender results. Not desert-dry, dehydrating heat, but pure, "flame-kissed" broiling, as in fine restaurants.

Instant on — or off! No lengthy warm-up period when you broil with gas... the flame responds instantly to the turn of a dial. Turn it off... presto! —no flame—no "carry-over" heat to linger on and on!

"Automatic" means more with gas. Set baking or roasting time—then forget it... temperature controlled burners prevent burned food... each automatic feature is better because of the precise heat control possible with gas. Only the friendly gas flame gives the subtle variations of heat so necessary to fine cooking.

Spring Check-Up Vital for Smooth Running Vehicle

A vital part of good car care is the annual spring check-up, according to John H. Struben, director of the Chicago Motor Club's emergency road service department. He urged motorists to visit their local garage and have their car thoroughly prepared for the months of warm weather driving ahead.

"After a long winter, it is important for safe and economical driving, to give your auto a spring-tune-up," Struben said. "Even today's modern vehicles that are engineered to require less attention still need a twice-yearly check-up to insure dependable operation."

Struben made the following suggestions to improve your summer driving:

(1) Drain and flush radiator; refill with clean water and a good rust inhibitor.

(2) Rotate wheels and bring spare tire into use. This will even the wear on all tires and prolong their life.

(3) Check the front wheels for proper alignment and balance.

(4) Check aiming of headlights; see that tail, brake, and directional indicator lights are in working order.

(5) Check cell condition and fluid level in battery.

(6) Drain engine oil and renew filter element; refill with recommended summer grade.

(7) Completely lubricate chassis. Oil or grease latches and other points normally not covered in regular grease job. Use powdered graphite in locks.

(8) Inspect windshield wiper blades for wear, and check tension of wiper arms.

(9) Check for proper tension on fan and generator belts. Replace if worn.

(10) Clean air filter and "breather pipes" on engine.

(11) Check starter, distributor, and voltage regulator operation.

(12) Check carburetor operation; make sure automatic choke mechanism works freely.

(13) Check brake drums and linings for excessive wear. Adjust brakes and make sure brake fluid is at proper level in master cylinder.

(14) Muffler and tail pipe should be firmly secured. Look for leaks or breaks in the entire system.

New McHenry Hospital Structure Employs Latest Developments

Ralph Bennett, chairman of the building committee of McHenry Hospital, reports that construction is practically completed.

He said that after work is finished by painters, tilesetters and plumbers, equipment, furniture and supplies will be installed for admitting of patients the first of May.

Bennett said the architect and engineers were able to take advantage of new developments and techniques in hospital science and medical care in planning McHenry Hospital.

"The patients' rooms are equipped with bedside oxygen supply and suction system for each patient. Each room also has television facilities with pillow speakers," he said.

"The building contains a delivery room, two labor rooms, nursery with 14 bassinets and other maternity facilities that had not previously been available at the hospital.

"The offices and food service will be the first departments to be moved into the building soon after April 15.

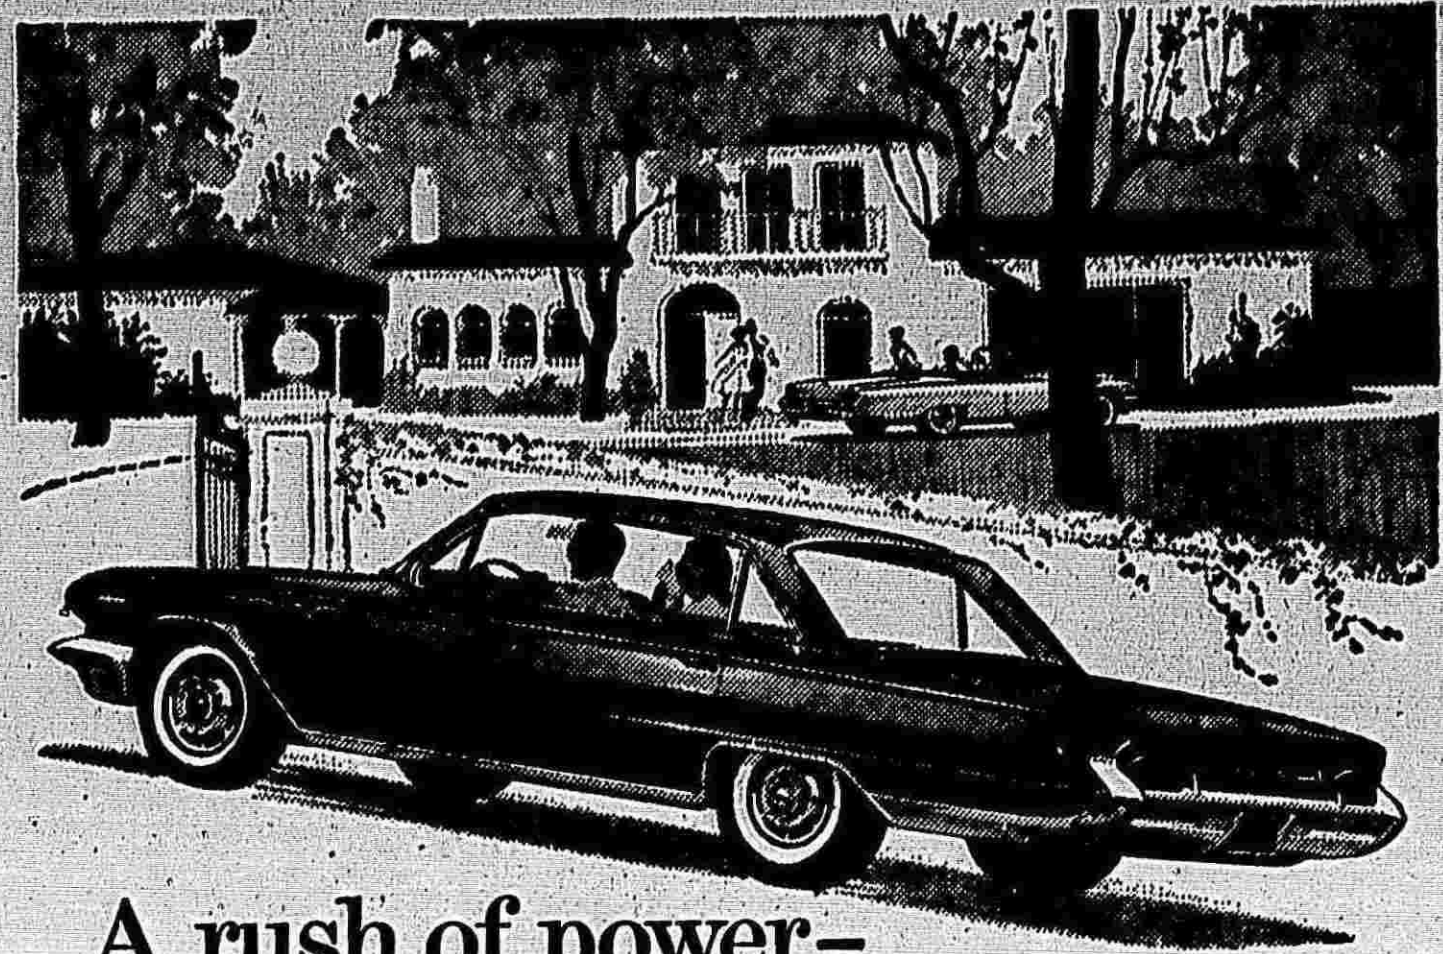

"Because there will still be a serious shortage of beds, preliminary plans are ready for the next stage containing 14 beds with a surgical suite to be added to the present structure," Bennett said.

"Necessary equipment for operation of a complete plant—boiler, sterilizing units, heating and air conditioning and food handling service—have been built in the present building to take care of future expansions."

Four-H members interested in livestock will be gathering in Springfield on Saturday, April 22, for the annual Land of Lincoln Judging and Showmanship school.

Motorists who travel the same route day after day may take too much for granted. Usually the tourist on a strange road is inclined to watch for road signs and markings.

Frequently, however, motorists who drive more by habit than by direction ignore basic traffic safety. Even in familiar surroundings, it always pays to be alert.

Hospital Polls Patients in Effort To Perfect Service and Treatment

ZION—A new public opinion questionnaire—to measure what patients are thinking—is being introduced this week at Zion Community Hospital.

The questionnaire, titled "What do you think about our hospital," will be given to all patients at the time of discharge.

Tabulations will then be made of the patients' answers and will be used in developing hospital policies.

The questionnaire aims to emphasize to the patients the hospital's concern for their comfort and proper care and to provide the hospital a basis of positive practices and correcting devices, that may be presently needed as seen by the patient.

The questionnaire deals with such items as the attitude of the personnel in the admitting office, housekeeping in the patient's room, the peacefulness of the hospital, any disturbing noises, the quality and quantity of food and its condition and palatability at time of serving, nurses' attitudes towards the patients, problems relative to visiting hours, the hospital bill and the patients' over-all impression of the hospital.

The hospital administration says it is looking forward with intense interest to the comments that will be received from the 300 or more patients who will receive this questionnaire during the month.

Antioch Grade School invited the three Girls Scout troops of St. Peter's School to participate in a Western Hoe-Down at the Antioch school on Saturday evening. Girls and boys from both schools attended.

If you bought cookies or nuts from Girl Scouts during the recent drive, delivery of the orders will begin on April 13.

The 35 girls in Brownie Troop 212 entertained their mothers at a mother-daughter pot luck banquet March 23 at the Venetian Village Civic Hall. Mrs. Mary Rozga, leader of the troop, reported that all but two of the mothers attended.

The mothers were given corsages made by their daughters from Kleenex. A one-act play was presented, followed by a talent show. Every Brownie participated in the entertainment.

April 16-22 is Library Week. Brownie Troop 100 will visit Antioch Library April 17 in place of their regular meeting. Mrs. Bernard Dost, leader of the troop, discovered that some of her young charges had never visited their local library and took this chance to initiate them in the habit of using the local facilities of the public library.

Lois Ward, leader of Brownie Troop 177 of Channel Lake, has been appointed chairman of the Brownie Day Camp. The Brownies will have day camp for eight days in June, at which they will get a chance to participate in many of the activities of the organization. Site for the camp has not definitely been established yet.

Local Scouts Ready Summer Camp Plans

Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 86, Channel Lake, and three of Troop 84, Lake Villa, have made reservations for charter troop camping at Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan near Antigo, Wis., this summer.

Charter troop camping is a plan that fell by the wayside during World War II because of lack of adult leaders, but which is now coming back stronger than ever. Under the charter plan each Boy Scout troop camps as a unit under the adult and junior leaders who guide its program during the rest of the year.

Ray Atwood is Scoutmaster of Troop 86, sponsored by the Channel Lake Community Club, and Del Sherwood is Scoutmaster of the Lake Villa troop sponsored by the Lindenhurst Men's Club.

Counselors. Camp counselors need not be leaders or even mothers of scouts—any woman who might be interested can call Mrs. Ward at Antioch 2259 or Mrs. Sedivec at Antioch 87. Training in the work will be given by Mrs. Ward, and each counselor may attend as many days as she wishes.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 226 and the Brownies of Troop 91 prepared exhibits of their work for display at the meeting of the Parents Club of Emmons school Tuesday, April 4. The Scouts' display and a speech to the club by Mrs. George Selivec, neighborhood chairman of the Girl Scouts, were a feature of the program. Mrs. Sedivec spoke on the aims of Girl Scouting and the importance of parent understanding of the fundamental aims of the work. Mrs. Sedivec stressed the fact that Scouting is not primarily meant to entertain nor occupy the girls' time. Stress should be put on strengthening the Girl's moral code, teaching her to think for herself, familiarizing her with peoples from other lands and societies so that she learns tolerance and true friendship, and particular stress on public service.

Girl Scout troops attempt to render some public service. Many of the troops work on small articles for distribution in hospitals and homes for the aged.

Both Troop 91 and Troop 226 are sponsored by the Parents Club.

CHANNEL LAKE—Three boys from Troop 86 received Star Scout status at the Star Life Board of Review held at the Village Hall in Grayslake April 4. The boys receiving Star Scout rating are Bob Willis, Calvin Trussell and Tom Hucker. Roger Eberman and Mike Roepnack, previously Star Scouts, received the rating of Life Scouts.
